Date	05 August 2026
Time	3:00 PM
Venue	Seminar Hall, Room No. 114
Organized by	Library Committee & UHV Club
Convener	D. Aruna, Library Committee

1. Introduction

The Library Committee and UHV Club of Aditya College of Engineering, Madanapalle organized Book Donation Day in the Seminar Hall (Room No. 114) with the objective of promoting the culture of reading, sharing knowledge, and supporting the academic needs of students.

The programme was organized with the theme “Share Knowledge • Shape the Future”. The initiative encouraged faculty members and students to donate books in good condition so that valuable learning resources could be reused and made available to fellow students. The programme emphasized the message that a book that is no longer required by one person can become an important source of knowledge and inspiration for another.

10. Role of the Library Committee and UHV Club

The Library Committee played a key role in planning and coordinating the Book Donation Day and in promoting the importance of books, reading, and effective utilization of library resources.

The UHV Club supported the initiative by encouraging students to participate and understand the broader values of sharing, responsibility, cooperation, and social contribution. The collaborative efforts of both organizing bodies helped make the programme purposeful and meaningful for the college community.

11. Message of the Programme

The central message of the programme was:

“Share Knowledge • Shape the Future.”

The programme reinforced the belief that:

“A single book can inspire countless dreams.”

Every book donated has the potential to become a source of knowledge, inspiration, and opportunity for another student. Through such initiatives, the college aims to build a stronger and more supportive learning community.

12. Conclusion

The Book Donation Day organized by the Library Committee and UHV Club was a meaningful initiative aimed at promoting reading, knowledge sharing, sustainability, and social responsibility among students and faculty members.

The addresses by Dr. S. Ramalinga Reddy, Director, and Dr. Rayudu Peyyala, Principal, added value to the programme by emphasizing the importance of books, reading habits, and sharing educational resources. Their encouraging words motivated the participants to actively support the initiative.

The programme successfully conveyed the message that knowledge grows when it is shared. Donating a book is not simply an act of giving; it is an opportunity to support another learner's educational journey and contribute to a stronger learning community.

The Library Committee and UHV Club express their sincere gratitude to the Management, Director, Principal, faculty members, students, and all contributors for their valuable support and participation in making Book Donation Day a purposeful and impactful initiative.

The programme concluded with a renewed commitment to promote reading, sharing, and lifelong learning across the institution.

“Your old book could become someone’s greatest opportunity.”
